Dear Parents,

Assalamu'Alaikum

Re: School Uniform Policy

I hope this letter finds you in good health and iman – ameen.

Recently, there have been a number of cases involving a breach of the school uniform rules. As a result, I have enclosed a copy of the 'School Uniform' policy which has been revised to provide greater clarity about our standards and expectations.

We believe that school uniform is an important part of the school ethos. It enables pupils to feel part of a school community in which there is good order and pupils take pride of themselves. Needless to say, the home-school partnership is invaluable in ensuring that high standards are maintained. Please ensure that your son abides by the school rules on appearance and uniform to avoid any action being taken by the school. I thank you for your support in this matter.

NB: The only significant change to the uniform list is the colour of sports socks from green or black to white.

Wassalam
